Learning Love in Paradise is an opportunity to learn the art of loving ourselves and others in a relaxed and gorgeous tropical setting on the beautiful island of Bali. This is an eleven day seminar in a lovely meditation retreat center, Gaia Oasis on the North side of the island far from the tourist areas. It is a possibility to have a holiday combined with a deep experience of inner work.

It is open to anyone who is new to The Learning Love Work as well as those who have worked with Krishnananda and Amana or one of the Learning Love Therapists before. This seminar provides structures and teachings of the work as well as tuning in to the individual needs of each participant. We will be doing daily meditations together and lots of dancing.

Krishnananda and Amana are partners for over twenty years. Together they have developed The Learning Love Work from many years of experience being together and working with people to help them find love in their lives. They create a precious space where people are inspired to go inside and discover their beauty and inner space in their own way and in their own time.

In these days, we will be exploring love, relating, and meditation in a relaxed and gentle way with plenty of time for relating, eating delicious food, hanging out by the pool or swimming in the ocean. We will also be offering interesting optional excursions including an early morning boat ride to watch dolphins, a trip to a Buddhist temple overlooking the island, to hot springs and/or climbing to a spectacular 50 meter waterfall. There will be a day off in the middle of the seminar to go for a shopping visit to the colorful market in Ubud or various other excursion possibilities.

The quality of meditation and witnessing is a foundation for this work; a theme which we integrate into the seminar.
